June

7 Using Newspapers for Genealogy Research

Thursday, June 7 from 7:00-8:00 pm in the Lindamood Room

No registration required.

Extra! Extra! Read all about your ancestors in historical newspapers! Library staff member Justin Crawfis will present a program about using newspapers in family history research, including recently digitized Hancock County newspapers.

7 Creative Writers' Group

Thursday, June 7 from 6:30-7:30 pm in the Blanchard Room

No registration required.

Creative writers of fiction, nonfiction, and poetry are invited to practice their writing, meet other writers, ask questions, receive feedback, and have fun. Meetings will begin with a prompt guide to the session — which can be followed or not — and will continue with freewriting and the option to share near the end of the hour! Beginners welcome!

14 Strawberries — Cooking Class

Thursday, June 14 from 4:30-5:30 pm in the Lindamood Room

Registration required. Adults only.

It's strawberry season! Watch as Chef Tara, owner of Eleat Culinary Services, leads a brief discussion on the health benefits of strawberries. Taste some locally produced strawberries and dishes prepared with berries that are sweet and savory.

18 Bullet Journaling Workshop

Monday, June 18 from 6:30-7:30 pm in the Lindamood Room

Registration required.

Bullet journaling is a method of day-to-day organization that is designed to be flexible and adapted to your own style. Bring a blank notebook or journal (lined or not — your choice) to work on after our program leader shares what works for her, and a few other options and ideas.

July

5 Creative Writers' Group

Thursday, July 5 from 6:30-7:30 pm in the Blanchard Room
